

The ENTELLIGENCE Steering Committee

Biography

Mardi Gomberg-Maitland, MD, MSc

Professor of Medicine, VCU School of Medicine
Director of RV Failure, HFpEF, and Cardio-Oncology Programs
Co-Director of the Pulmonary Vascular
Disease Program
Inova Heart and Vascular Institute
Falls Church, VA

Dr. Gomberg-Maitland is Professor of Medicine at VCU School of Medicine, and Director of the RV Failure, HFpEF, and Cardio-Oncology Programs, and Co-Director of the Pulmonary Vascular Disease Program at Inova Heart and Vascular Institute. She earned her undergraduate degree at Yale University, her medical degree at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and completed a residency at New York Presbyterian Hospital-Weill/Cornell Medical Center and a fellowship at Mount Sinai Medical Center. She earned a Masters in Clinical Epidemiology at Harvard School of Public Health. Dr. Gomberg-Maitland is an expert clinician and researcher in the field of pulmonary heart disease. In recent years, she has participated in dozens of multicenter, multinational research trials to explore new therapies for pulmonary hypertension. She is currently focusing on pulmonary arterial, pulmonary venous hypertension/diastolic dysfunction, and biomarker development.

A fellow of the American College of Cardiology, American College of Chest Physicians, and American Heart Association, and a member of the International Society of Heart and Lung Transplantation, American Thoracic Society, and Pulmonary Hypertension Association, Dr. Gomberg-Maitland has published numerous articles in peer-reviewed journals, including the Journal of the American College of Cardiology, JACC Heart Failure, Pulmonary Circulation, European Respiratory Journal, Chest, and the Journal of Heart and Lung Transplantation.